Information about the town and the neighbourhood	THE CITY Málaga is the fifth most populated city in Spain. It is located in Andalucía (south of the Iberian Peninsula) and it has a population of almost 568,000 inhabitants. Whilst the Mediterranean Sea bathes the coastline of Málaga, the mountains of Málaga close ranks behind the city to form a barrier of peaks that protects it from the cold. The hottest months are July and August. December and February are usually the coldest. The average temperatures fall between a maximum of 22.8°C and a minimum of 13°C.

	Birthplace of Picasso, the vibrant cosmopolitan city of Málaga is blessed with sunshine and fantastic quality of life. The city provides lively nightlife, museums and exceptional seafood restaurants alongside wide boulevards, swaying palm trees and beautiful beaches. Promotional tourist video: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=wIJAjvfJ4cg HUELIN NEIGHBOURHOOD It gets its name from Eduardo Huelin Reissig, the neighbourhood's designer who also made significant investments during the Industrial Revolution. It was once a working-class neighbourhood but, after the construction of Antonio Machado beachfront promenade and Huelin Park, it has become a renowned leisure area. There are many leisure areas, sports facilities and parks for families to enjoy. Just as with almost all of Málaga coast, Huelin offers beach bars and restaurants where you can try pescaíto and other traditional dishes.
